

Expense Reimbursement Policy

Nexus Technologies, Inc.
Effective Date: January 1, 2026

1. Purpose

This policy defines reimbursable business expenses and submission requirements for Nexus Technologies employees and contractors on assignment.

2. Meal Allowances (Travel)

- Domestic travel meals: up to $75 per day including tax and tip.
- Client entertainment meals require pre-approval from a director when expected cost exceeds $150 per person.
- Alcohol is reimbursable only when dining with clients and capped at 20% of the meal total.

3. Mileage and Ground Transportation

- Personal vehicle mileage is reimbursed at $0.67 per mile for approved business travel.
- Rideshare and taxi receipts are required for amounts over $25.
- Commuting between home and primary office is not reimbursable.

4. Receipts and Submission

- Receipts are required for all expenses over $25.
- Expense reports must be submitted within 30 days of incurring the expense.
- Late submissions may be denied unless approved by Finance.

5. Non-Reimbursable Items

- Personal grooming, traffic fines, gym memberships, and non-business entertainment.
- First-class airfare without VP approval.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR

Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on audit procedures: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on per diem exceptions: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on corporate card usage: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on foreign currency: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

