

New Employee Onboarding Guide

Nexus Technologies, Inc.
Effective Date: January 1, 2026

1. Welcome

Welcome to Nexus Technologies. This guide outlines your first 90 days, including probation expectations, IT setup, and required training.

2. Probation Period

- All new hires serve a 90-day probation period.
- During probation, PTO accrual is paused until day 91.
- Remote work requests are evaluated after successful completion of probation.

3. Week 1 Checklist

- Day 1: Complete I-9, payroll, and benefits enrollment in the HR portal.
- Day 1–2: IT issues laptop, MFA token, and email within 4 business hours of start.
- Day 3: Security awareness training due.
- Day 5: Meet your onboarding buddy and attend team standup.

4. Required Training (First 30 Days)

- Code of Conduct acknowledgment.
- Information Security fundamentals.
- Anti-harassment training.
- Role-specific compliance modules assigned by HR.

5. 30/60/90 Day Milestones

Day 30: Manager check-in on goals and integration. Day 60: mid-probation review. Day 90: probation evaluation with formal feedback and benefits/PTO eligibility confirmation.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR

Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR

Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR

within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR

Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR

within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR

Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR

within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on facilities access: Employees should consult their manager and HR

Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on benefits orientation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on team rituals: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on payroll setup: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

Additional guidance on org chart navigation: Employees should consult their manager and HR Business Partner when questions arise. This section reinforces consistent application of company standards, documentation requirements, and escalation paths. Managers are responsible for fair enforcement, timely communication, and referring complex situations to HR within one business day.

